

Winter Video Production Camp for students grades 3 - 8
Partnership between Highlands Community Ministries & Beargrass Media
(In the Highlands of Louisville – Exact Location TBD)
Two-day camps instructing in intermediate to advanced video techniques
Thursday and Friday January 2 and 3, 2020 9 AM – 4 PM

Seats are limited. Application instructions on reverse side.

The students will learn intermediate to advanced techniques on how to record, edit, and publish video and audio productions. The students will use video cameras, microphones, a teleprompter, green screen, iPad with stop motion video, and computers with video editing software and the Microsoft Office suite. The students will execute detailed filmmaking techniques including use of DSLR cameras, steadicam, camera sliders, and multitrack external audio recording to create quality video productions.

Jon-Mark Sandquist was the director of the Bloom Elementary Media Club for 5 years. He also has taught music lessons to children in Louisville for 15 years. He has done freelance graphic design for many local businesses. His video team called 8 Pint Productions has competed in the Louisville 48-Hour Film Project for each of the past five years and been invited to the “Best of 48 HRFP” four times.

Patrick Fitzgerald has worked with Louisville youth on video projects for the past 12 years. He started the Bloom Elementary Media Club in 2008, and led it for five seasons producing two weekly broadcasts featuring over 100 students from the school’s 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades. He started Beargrass Media in 2011 and has led after school programs under that name every year since that time at Highland Middle School, The Louisville Free Public Library, Kentucky Youth Career Center, Neighborhood House, Iroquois High School, the Boys and Girls Club, and the Kentucky YMCA Youth Association. Beargrass Media has entered films in the Louisville 48-Hour Film Project each of the past 7 years and been invited to the “Best of 48 HRFP” four times. Starting in 2019, Patrick became the City Producer of the Louisville 48 Hour Film Project. Beargrass Media has produced videos for nonprofit organizations including Kentucky Waterways Alliance, WE Day Kentucky, The Louisville Nature Center, Metro Housing Coalition, and the Olmsted Parks Conservancy.

Students will need to have a signed video release form to participate. (Students will also bring their lunch).
